3½ Days Sailing the Seven Skies

— or —

I'll trade you half a Thursday for a Minicon today!

Welcome to Minicon 49: Pirates and Airships!¹ The great zeppelin is on the runway (do zeppelins have runways? Well, ours do) to next year's silver convention, which the scriptures promise will comprise a full four days of fannish merriment. This year, we get three and a half! The extra half day is split between late Thursday and early Friday—your humble editor proposes "Thiday" for this awkward extension.

So what's open Thursday?

To begin with, Registration! The desk will be open from 7 – 10 p.m. Unlike previous years, you can register at the door on Thursday. After-hours registration will be in the Bar or Consuite as normal.

When will the Consuite open? According to Consuite head Hershey L., it'll open when the Art Show is set up! That, after all, is the biggest set-up task requiring volunteers, followed by the Bar and the Consuite itself. Artists may hang their art from 5–10pm. Set-up begins at 3, so if you're available Thursday afternoon, pitch in! You'll be helping Minicon to begin faster. Every minute you volunteer thus creates more Minicon.

That said, 8p.m. is a "reasonable guesstimate" for when Consuite and Bar will open. The Bar will be hosting a Guest of Honor reception at 8 or whenever set-up is complete. In case you've forgotten, our guests of honor this year are author Catherynne M. Valente, artist Don Maitz, and author/illustrator Janny Wurts.

The Rumpus Room has three Thursday items, all of which are curiously creature-based:

- ★ Stuffed Animal Zoo (3:00 – 4:00)
- ★ Rampage, a dexterity board game (4:30 – 5:30)
- ★ King of Tokyo, a dice and card game (6:00 – 7:00)

Then there's Cinema Obscura, which opens its doors at 8! Our film room will be showing two films on Thursday—see the program book for descriptions.

- > Vessel (8:00 – 9:30)
- > Pioneer One - part 1 of 2 (9:30 – 11:00).

No concerts are scheduled for Thursday night, but there will be open music in the Bloomington room. Likewise, no official gaming events are scheduled for Thursday night, but games and jigsaw puzzles will be available in the Garden Court.

Location changes

- 🎮 The Film Room is now in Grand Ballroom East B—at the end of the programming corridor and to the right.
- 🎮 Gaming is returning to the Garden Court.
- 🎮 The Teen Lounge is now in a south side first floor cabana.

A promising start

According to pre-registration head Clay H., our prereg total is 417—up 34 from last year and the highest since Minicon 40.

Signage rules

"The hotel is providing 4 large papered areas which are approved for signage to advertise parties or other events. These will be located near the Bloomington room, in the Grand Ballroom corridor, escalator foyer and first floor near the escalators/poolside. Any tape may be used on the papered areas.

"Only one 8.5"x11" sign may be hung on the wall vinyl per cabana room outside of the guestroom door to identify the party room. Please use 3M/Scotch safe release painter's tape for this. Minicon has a supply—you can get some at the reg desk, the consuite or from Parties head Matt Weiser. No signs may be hung on the guestroom doors. No signage in the elevators or on the escalators, per the city of Bloomington."

—Con co-chair Matt S.

Programming notes

- ▶ SF Squeecast will be at 7p.m. Saturday, not at 8.
- ▶ Wondering about Friday night's 9:30 Live Model Drawing event? The Art Show doors will be re-opened especially for it at 9p.m.

Hugos past and present

The announcement of this year's Hugo nominees will again be streamed live via Ustream from Eastercon in Glasgow! It happens in the Edina room at 3:30 Saturday.

In addition to the 2014 Hugo nominees, Loncon 3 will be presenting Retrospective Hugo Awards for eligible works from the year 1939, in honor of its 75th anniversary. This will be the fourth set of Retro Hugos awarded.

Avast—'Tis the Medallion Hunt!

The Minicon Medallion Hunt, now in its ninth year, is a search for hidden booty stashed all over the hotel! Fourteen shiny pennies dating back to the ripe old year of nineteen hundred and seventy-three are up for grabs, some for completing challenges and some for deciphering clues and seeking them out. This newsletter ye hold in your hands be your very own treasure map!

Clues to the whereabouts of these 'medallions' will be included in each issue of the BBT. No pennies are hidden in restrooms, shops, or anywhere in the Grand Ballroom Center. Please be respectful and quiet when searching outside of convention space.

Find a penny? Redeem it with the Cluemeister! The numbered pennies are good for their face value in Dealer Dollars (good in the Art Show and Dealer's Room), while the lettered ones each win you a miscellaneous prize. If you can't track down the Cluemeister anywhere else, you'll find him in his office during the listed Hours of Redemption. He'll ask for your story of discovery, which will be told in future BBTs or at Closing Ceremonies.

As an additional hunting aid, there will be a sign outside the BBT Office tracking the status of the various medallions. It will also be used for general BBT updates.

The Black Box Challenge

(For those kids who enjoyed playing with invisible marbles)
The Cluemeister has a new challenge in the BBT office this year—the 1978 Parker Brothers deduction game Black Box! The mystery is where the invisible balls are located; the Cluemeister will explain the rules. During each Hour of Redemption, you may probe one line to gain information and make one guess as to the location of the secretive spheres. Solve the puzzle and win a prize! Three such puzzles, represented by pennies B1, B2 and B3, will be available over the course of the convention.
